Office—No. 111 West Gold Avenue.

Address, THOS. HUGHES, Proprietor.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—OCT. 14, 1895.

From the Daily, October 11.]

Mr. J. E. Watson, county surveyor, is reported as having been shot.

Violence was plenty in the markets yesterday, the season being open.

C. S. Wadsworth, is buying sheep to take up and building a big ranch in the territory.

A few nights ago Postmaster Henry took a wagon load of lumber stolen from his building in old town.

J. E. Saint, successor of the savings bank, will close up the business in a satisfactory manner to all concerned.

Marie A. Frey, late of Denver, has succeeded Louis Koenig as the New Mexico agent of the Mutual Life Insurance company with headquarters in this city.

Judge Lockhart's court this afternoon Charles Berg and Christine Gomberg were made one, Judge Lockhart excommunicating Berg by smacking the bride upon her easy line.

Fine things charged with sundry evil names and tried in Dodge Lockhart's court today, were fined and awaited the arrival of friends to pay for their release at $300, but no one had come to aid them at that hour.

Major W. M. Maymiller is stationed in San Francisco. The major is on the membership roll of the Commercial club, and will be remembered, as also his wife, his many residents. The Maymillers were located here in 1894.

The Optic says C. P. Jones and Wm. H. Hough, of Albuquerque, and Lee Hough, of Santa Fe, are interpreters to the foreign examiners. They have no stenographer with them, neither have they authority to employ one.

Commodore Headly took out No. 3 last night for the west. He with others on the east-bound train just before the raising of the recent blockade bought out Block's store at Grants. Caught goods and crackers were a luxury for half a day.

Miss Mabel Stevens started for the Needles with a light heart, last night. Certainly the attendance of so many friends, who waited an hour past schedule time, the train being held for the late western express, was enough to show that the lady was a favorite.

The remains of Mrs. Gregorio Ap-schon lie in undertaker Strong's. The deceased was 73 years of age, and the light went out at her home in low Grisegos, north of this city. The services will be held in the old town church at 10 a.m. Thursday, and the funeral cortage will proceed to Santa Barbara cemetery.

Before Judge Lockhart this morning came five cases for disposition. Three for vagrancy were given ten days each, one under same charge, Frank Vogelstein was discharged, he being a cripple. A drunk got ten days on the gang. The second case arrived for lively times in this camp of vagrants are becoming too numerous.

George C. West, who has been to the fair, and on his return left his wife among relatives in Iowa, passed west to Gallup last night. Mr. West, as cashier of the Crescent Coal company in that town, says the pay day will occur on the 28th, when about 450 men will be paid for September work, which amounted to sixteen days. In October the working days of the men in the Crescent company's employ will aggregate at least twenty.

Death of W. H. Smith.

This morning at a few minutes past 8 o'clock Wm. H. Smith died from heart disease.

The burial will take place to-morrow, Thursday, at 10 o'clock a.m.

The deceased for the past six years was the faithful pressman of THE CITIZEN, and his death is sincerely mourned by his aged mother and many friends. Mr. Smith had been ailing for several months, complaining of his heart paining him. About a week ago he left his familiar place in THE CITIZEN'S press room and took to bed. Up to this morning hopes were entertained that he would soon recover, but at half past seven o'clock Dr. Eastenbury called at the office and said that Mr. Smith was dying. Two of the office boys dropped their composing sticks and hastened to his side, arriving only a few minutes before he peacefully closed his eyes in death. Wm. H. Smith was aged about 40 years, and was a hard working man, honorable in all his dealing. He was the sole support of his aged mother, whose grief is inconsolable over the loss of her boy. During life Billy made a clear record, and may it be well with him in the great beyond.

The ALBUQUERQUE DAILY CITIZEN has entered upon the eighteenth of its publication. The CITIZEN is the only daily in the Duke city that shows any enterprise, and it has done more towards building up that place than all other papers published there.

The CITIZEN is devoted to the advancement of Albuquerque, and it always contains the news. The Sun wishes the DAILY CITIZEN continued prosperity—Cincinnati, Ohio, Sun.

Sussex Separation.

The suit for divorce entered by H. G. Whitecomb, is pending in the territorial district court. Deputy District Clerk Harry Lewis, master in chancery took the testimony of Whitecomb and Adolf Harsch last evening, and the case is continued.

The head was not found, and the body is as yet unidentified. The body was taken to Socorro where an investigation is in progress. It is probable that some heinous crime has been committed somewhere in the Rio Grande valley.

Bishop Andrews' Address.

At the Lead avance Methodist church last evening there was a larger attendance than is ordinary the case, being due to the presence of Bishop Andrews, D. D., of New York City, in the pulpit. The bishop is past sixty-seven, is strong and hearty, and won attention from the moment he entered the church. His sermon was chosen from the prayer of David, "Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God, and Renew Within Me a Right Spirit." The male quartette sang before and after the sermon, which latter was a masterpiece.
